

The Disgrace of Hate by AB

Emmet Louis Till
A young child beat and mangled
Shoot in head and drowned

Mamie Till, mother
Dared to have the world to see
Utter racism

Just fourteen years old
A white woman told a big lie
Made him a victim

Cowardly white men
Born bred Mississippians
Scoundrels kill a child

I was about twelve
When I read Jet magazine
Broke my heart in two

How could anyone hate
Those who can't defend themselves
And, live with yourself

I'll never forget
The boy, Emmett Till, murdered
For just being Black

RIP Emmett Till Life 1941 Death 1955
Prayers for our young men and mothers.
For those so filled with hate they don't realize they hate themselves and make this world ashamed for their time on this earth.
While those who could have made this a better world were stolen from us.
But, never, never forgotten!
