

Brian Henry is a self taught, experimental fine art photographer and explorer. His first camera came from money he earned blowing up balloons. While Brian Henry had won a few scholarships to attend art school, he chose to apply his money to his own unscripted, artistic journey. He has traveled up and down the East Coast of the U.S., as well as Eastern Europe and the Balkans.

Brian Henry experiments using a variety of cameras and techniques but is most satisfied using old Polaroid cameras and expired film. He has survived the death of Polaroid and was fortunate to contribute to the birth of The Impossible Project.

"I am very experimental with my work and often find myself doing it "wrong" or just whatever feels right. My photos are sometimes manipulated, burned, peeled, abused...or left in abandoned buildings to decay".

Brian Henry currently resides in Baltimore, Maryland where he works part time at a photo lab as well as co-owning the oddities store "Bazaar" in Hampden.

Group Exhibitions:

2006; DeviantART Presents, Sonar, Baltimore, MD
2008; La Galerie Contraste, Nantes, France
2009; Le G62, Bordeaux, France
2010; The Impossible Collection, NYC, NY
2010; Le Bocal, Lyon, France
2012; Area 405 - Slideluck Potshow, Baltimore, MD
2012; The Impossible Project "Momentum", NYC, NY
2012; Years Mean Nothing, Carlheim Mansion, Leesburg, VA
2012; Good Light, Current Gallery, Baltimore, MD
2012; Kickplate Project, Wales, U.K.

Publications:

2008; Sunstone Magazine; Issue 151, Salt Lake City, Utah
2008; The Most Dangerous Race; "Arc" Album Art & T-Shirt, Chicago, IL
2009; Tickl Magazine, Vienna, Austria
2009; "Covers EP" 10" Vinyl by Greg Laswell, San Diego, CA
2009; "Deathbook", nEgoist, Berlin, DE
2009; "Cannibal EP" 12" Vinyl by Fan Death, Vancouver, BC
2010; "How to be a Child and Win the War" CD by Electric Litany, Patras, Greece
2010; "Take A Bow" 12" Vinyl, CD by Greg Laswell, San Diego, CA
2010; Design Bureau Magazine, Issue 3, Chicago, IL
2010; "Into the Mystic" Single, Greg Laswell, San Diego, CA
2011; "Foxfeet" CD by Forks of Ivy, Baltimore, MD
2011; Feast of the Epiphany/ Ruminations - Split Cassette, Baltimore, MD
2012; "Solitude" 12" Vinyl by Feast of the Epiphany - Baltimore, MD
2012; "Landline" 12 Vinyl & Cd by Greg Laswell - San Diego, CA
2012; "Xaha" 12" vinyl, cd by Mr. Moccasin - Baltimore, MD
2012; "Bleek Records Compilation" CD by Bleek Records - Baltimore, MD
2014; "I Was Going to be an Astronaut" Greg Laswell, San Diego, CA