PROJECTS

2018 Celestial, Terrestrial

Maryland Space Grant Observatory at Johns Hopkins University
Organizer and curator

- A two night event utilizing the Morris W. Offit telescope as a workable material; aiming to bridge the gap between the Baltimore artist and scientist communities while providing a platform for critical discussion of our relationship to, and place within the cosmos.
- The project included a group exhibition I curated on the Observatory deck and a solo exhibition of my work inside the Observatory dome.

Resort Studios* est. 2015

2031 Maryland Ave, Baltimore, MD
Founder and Director

- A not-for-profit work space concerned with providing artists affordable studios in which they have the comfort and breadth to focus on their practice; made possible by striking a deal with a landlord for a month of free rent in exchange for cleaning up the space, which had been uninhabited for 20 years.

2015 Lil' Gallery est. 2014

Copycat Building, Baltimore, MD
Co-Founder and Co-Director

- An artist-run exhibition space focused on facilitating opportunities for collaboration, investigation and conversation; the space aimed to provide an accessible showcase for emerging and established artists
- Participated in monthly art walks and annual art fairs
- Exhibited over 60 artists

ALLOVERSTREET* est. 2014

East Oliver St, Baltimore, MD
Participating curator, volunteer

- Founded by Kimi Hanauer and Penthouse Gallery
 - A monthly art walk that was host to simultaneous art openings spanning the many diverse art spaces in the Station North Arts District. Awarded City Paper's "Best Art Walk That Doesn't Suck" in 2014

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

2013 Teaching Assistant

Assistant to Mary Smull's Woven Imagery class at MICA

- The class was an introductory weaving course with an emphasis on the narrative powers of cloth, and techniques for pictorial weaving.
 - Responsibilities include: teaching workshops, assisting students in and out of class, some grading, active participation in critiques, tool upkeep and studio maintenance
