Katherine\_wah@hcpss.org

After completing college, my focus has been on family and career in special education. I have exhibited watercolors and mixed media art in non juried shows in Howard County area since 2019 when I began studying watercolor and mixed media at the Howard County Center for the Arts.

My art focuses on past and present experiences and is influenced by nature. I communicate ideas while experimenting with process and searching for ways that images can draw attention or interpret social issues.

I have studied most recently with Diana Marta, resident artist at the Howard County Center for the Arts. I continue to work full time as a special educator and incorporate art to develop and extend literary concepts with students age five through twenty-one.
