Education

M.F.A. 2000, Columbia University, New York, NY. Printmaking/Digital Media.

M.A. 1998, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI. Graphics.

B.F.A. 1996, Cooper Union, New York, NY. Graphics/Painting/Photography.

Yulia Hanansen has been trained in mosaics, large scale works, tapestry weaving, and academic drawing by Yakov and Angele Hanansen.

Occupation

Artist and Educator, Owner of Mosaic Sphere Studio, LLC. Mosaic murals and architectural installations for private and public spaces. Group and private workshops at schools and art studios around the US.

Adjunct Faculty printmaking at Center of Fine Arts and Communications, Towson University, Towson, Maryland.

Hanansen's artworks have been exhibited nationally and internationally in multiple invitational shows as well as in her solo exhibitions including: Italy, New York City, Philadelphia, Chicago, Seattle, Tacoma, San Francisco, Baltimore, Austin, Dallas, Ann Arbor, and other locations. Yulia's latest works represent her fascination with themes of nature, climate change, cosmos, and a connection of human beings to it. She is interested in depicting places and natural phenomena that are only noticeable with the help of technology or imagination. Yulia practices her art in a mosaic, printmaking, and drawing media.
