Maryland Institute College of Art, Bachelor of Fine Arts, Painting, 2005

As an artist and the owner of a small art gallery in an off-the-beaten-path neighborhood of Baltimore City, I lead all aspects of running an art studio-gallery/retail shop featuring my own art as well as other local artists. I am in charge of marketing, accounting, inventory, shipping, art installation, directing arts workshops, and sponsoring community and family events. I often work with local organizations and businesses to plan, coordinate and facilitate arts-centric cultural festivals and events that engage the local community and attract visitors from other parts of the region to aid in social and economic development. I participate fully in events which nurture the local arts scene.
