

April S. Jones

Screenwriter / Filmmaker

Highly motivated filmmaker and screenwriter with 20 years of experience writing screenplays. Eager to write and produce impactful narrative content. Screenplays include horror, romantic comedy, and drama. Latest project, a short film titled The Man in the Window, is the second collaboration with fellow UCF alum, Shola Ajayi and cinematographer and editor, Jai Rice. Enjoy working with a variety of actors and crew members at many different experience levels. Talent for bringing out the best in our actors and crew and making quality work on a modest budget.

Experience

Writer/Producer

August 2019 - Present

- Wrote the screenplay for the film and workshopped the script with several others to make sure it was sound and believable.
- Secure funding for the production.
- Assist with casting to make sure the right actors/actresses bring out the most in the role and work well with other cast members.
- Work with other crew members to ensure the production remains on schedule, that it will look its best, and that the final product is as polished as possible and matches our vision.

Intern

August 2002 - July 2004

- Assisted the director, assistant director, and script supervisor in their tasks to ensure the production went smoothly.
