

NIAMH MACNAMEE

SUMMARY

As an animator and concept artist with a deep passion for visual storytelling, I am always seeking opportunities to grow creatively and professionally. My exchange year in the United States has opened new doors for learning and personal development, while also challenging me to adapt to a new environment and culture. This experience has strengthened my resilience and inspired me to push my artistic boundaries even further. I am now eager to take the next step by pursuing a summer internship where I can continue to develop my skills, contribute meaningfully to a creative team, and gain real-world industry experience.
